Once again it is completely mind boggling to comprehend why there is any question about whether or not to uphold the law regarding unregistered and illegally parked vehicles in Santa Cruz. Seriously?!? We need to discuss this?!!

Simply removing laws in order to accommodate a few – thereby crippling the police department's hands to uphold the law and welcoming more lawlessness is not a solution to anything. What number of unpaid parking tickets should be allowed? And for whom? Should we remove all rules regarding parking violations? And not require any vehicles to be registered? OF COURSE NOT.

Please stop the insanity. We have rules and laws for a reason. Whatever the intended outcome is desired for solving homelessness IS NOT THIS.

Our city deserves better than this. The entire city (housed or not) deserves clearly defined guidelines that are upheld by all.

Respectfully,
Pat Baer
