The press is now reporting a "victory" for Mom's 4 Housing since the lawful owner of the home they occupied for two months will negotiate selling it to the city through a local land trust. Gov. Newsom even weighed in tacitly commending their actions.

What next? My house I leave unoccupied when on vacation? My extra car I don't drive daily?

And no one asked about the fathers of the children. Where are they in providing housing for their children?
