I am writing in regards to the CACH's proposal to put a moratorium on towing vehicles. What kind of nonsense is this?  I understand the desire to take steps to ease the difficulty of being homeless, but this is extremely shortsighted. Not everyone who decides to camp in their cars on the streets of Santa Cruz are victims of bad luck or circumstances.  There are a number of people who take advantage of our compassion and lack of enforcement. They pollute our streets with their garbage, and the putrid exhaust from their generators, and their human waste.  SCPD needs to have some leverage to keep them at bay.

CACH and the city council should be advocating for SAFE places for actual homeless to park and sleep if they need to, and stepping up enforcement on overnight camping for those oppotunists who simple want to live for cheap with an ocean view without following our laws.

Please don't take away this tool from SCPD.
